

What It Means

Many people do not know what a bank's Capital is for, or the difference between a bank of little or no capital and one with large capital.

A BANK'S CAPITAL

Is the fund that protects the depositors from loss; therefore the larger it is, the greater protection the depositor has. This bank has a

| | |
|-------------------|-------------|
| Capital of | $50,000.00 |
| Surplus Fund of | 27,000.00 |
| Undivided profits | 8,000.00 |
| A Total of | $85,000.00 |

This means that we must lose $85,000.00 before our depositors could lose a cent. This protection is for YOU. When you think "Bank" think "Old Reliable."

Kidney Beans.

Do you know the Kidney Bean? If not get acquainted. You will profit by the acquaintance, and find much comfort in having a good supply in the pantry for use on your table next winter.

The Kidney Bean is a red bunch bean of kidney shape, and large size. It is used principally as a dry shelled table bean. The Division of Extension considers it the "standard table bean for Tennessee." It is better adapted to our conditions than the Pinto, Bird Eye or Bunch October. It is a better yielder than the Navy bean and has a richer flavor.

Mr. Jerre Ballinger, of Elmwood R. 1, raised a crop of Kidney Beans last summer, which, in spite of very unfavorable weather conditions at time of seeding, yielded splendidly. Mr.

Ballinger has agreed to sell them out in small lots to the merchants in the county who will cooperate by selling them to the farmers in their neighborhood for seed. Ask your merchant if he is handling Kidney Beans. Plan to have a good supply of shelled beans for next winter. Buy a gallon as soon as they are on the market. Eat a few to see how good they are. Then plant the rest of them the first of July, in rows 28 inches apart, three beans to the place, 15 inches apart in the rows. Cultivate shallow. Allow beans to mature on the vine. Pull the vines up early in morning to prevent shattering. Dry in sun and flail them out. Store for winter use.

A Beautiful Life of a Noble Girl Crosses the Tide.

On Thursday morning, March 6, 1919 death drew its dark, gloomy folds around the life of one of the noblest, sweetest girls of our community, Miss Calva Hatcher, and touched her gentle heart with its icy fingers and healed her suffering forever.

Miss Calva was a sweet Christian girl. She united with the Missionary Baptist church, at Plunkett's Creek, about four years ago. She was loved by all who knew her intimately, and we shall sadly miss her smiling face. It is indeed sad to give up such a lovely girl and we cannot understand why such a bright jewel was taken from a happy home, but God knows best. Miss Calva leaves a father, two brothers and a step-mother in sorrow here, waiting for the great King's call, when they shall look once more upon the dear face they loved so well. Her mother preceded her to the grave several years ago, and since that time she had been, both mother and sister to her brothers until about a year ago, when they were drafted into service for U. S. They are both now in France, (or perhaps sailing for home). How sad it will be when they return to their home! No sister's smiles or tears will welcome them. They will not see the smiling face that bade them goodby a year ago, when they marched away. They cannot see her, but perhaps, if she is permitted, she will look down from Heaven and see them when they enter the little home, once so happy. We know her father will sadly miss her and there's a chair, a vacant place this cruel world can never fill. I am sure Heaven has been made brighter since her entrance there; for God only plucks the sweetest flowers, and we realize that when we see Miss Calva's face again, it will look sweeter and brighter than it did even here, for 'twill be o'er-shadowed by the shining white plumes of the angel's wings.

Half Your Living Without Money Cost

We are all at a danger point. On the use of good common sense in our 1919 farm and garden operations, depends prosperity or our "going broke."

Even at present high prices no one can plant all or nearly all cotton, buy food and grain at present prices from supply merchant on credit, and make money. Food and grain are higher in proportion than are present cotton prices.

It's a time above all others to play safe; to produce all possible food, grain and forage supplies on your own acres; to cut down the store bill.

A good piece of garden ground, rightly planted, rightly tended and kept planted the year round, can be made to furnish nearly half your living. It will save you more money than you make on the best two or three acres of cotton you ever grew! Hastings' 1919 Seed Book tells all about the right kind of a money saving garden and the vegetables to put in it. It tells about the farm crops as well and shows you the clear road to real and regular farm prosperity. It's Free. Send for it today to H. S. HASTINGS CO., Atlanta, Ga.—Adv.

BIG Auction SALE

315 Acres—315 Acres

Fine Sumner Connty Farm

ON THE PREMISES

THURSDAY, MAY 1ST, 1919, 10:30 A.M.

We are now surveying and subdividing and will offer for sale at auction the famous farm and home of the late Judge Judd at Gallatin, Tenn., containing 315 acres, all deep, rich first and second bottom land in the highest state of cultivation, having been operated for a number of years exclusively as a stock and grain farm on a large scale, and is mostly seeded to blue grass, orchard and timothy, and not a waste acre on the farm.

This fine farm has a long pike frontage on both the beautiful Red River and Long Hollow pikes and is almost adjoining the city limits of Gallatin, one of the best school and college centers in the state for both boys and girls.

Improvements consist of 10-room two story modern brick residence, with hot and cold water, baths, light plant, big stock barns, silos, hay sheds, etc., and one of the best watered farms in the state.

TERMS:—One-fourth cash, balance, one, two and three years.

For full particulars, and to be shown the farm, write or call on Mr. Jos. H. Judd, Administrator, on the farm, or
